OUTBREAK AFTER BRIDGES BURNED

National Guard's Units
May Be Ordered To Scene by McRea

(Associated Press.)

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 16.—One railroad striker lynched and armed citizens patrolling the streets in search of other strikers, a general exodus of former railroad employees who went on strike two years ago, the mayor and the city council ordered to resign and the town marshal ordered to leave town and possibility that the Arkansas national guard would be called out, was the situation at Harrison, Ark., today, reported by the Harrison correspondent of The Arkansas Democrat, from Harrison this noon.

Unconfirmed rumors were that several persons had been killed.

The situation at Harrison is the result of alleged burning of bridges, destruction of machinery and other depredations along the Missouri and North Arkansas railway.

Some of the crimes date back to nearly two years ago when the strike on the road began. Three bridges burned last week brought matters to a point where officials of the road virtually decided upon abandonment of the road.

The threatened abandonment of the road is believed to have aroused the citizens along the road and yesterday they began to arrive at Harrison armed with a determination of bringing to an end the depredations along the road.

The intenseness of the feelings of the citizens is indicated by the public whipping of a Harrison capitalist and hotel owner, who is reported by The Democrat's correspondent as having been punished by citizens for having signed the bond of A. P. Stevens, a former railroad man, who was under arrest in connection with a charge of bridge burning.

E. C. Gregory, the man who was lynched yesterday, was said to have opened fire on citizens and officers who searched his homes yesterday. They reported finding a quantity of emery dust and explosives in his home.

Gregory, said to have defied the citizens committee, when he was called before them for a hearing, avowed "that a day of reckoning would come." His body was found early this morning, hanging from a bridge near the railroad yard, near Harrison.

A coroner's jury has been empaneled to investigate the lynching.

A call for help made to Governor McRea at Little Rock, was answered by immediate action and the calling out of national guard troops now hinges upon the findings of Colonel H. B. McAllister, commander of the national guard, who is on his way to Harrison to investigate.

Governor McRea also sent a message to the state legislature here, requesting immediate action.

Governor McRea called attention to the situation and asked that the legislature take some action, both bodies immediately appointing special committees to confer with the governor and it was expected the committees would report back shortly after the noon recess.

Governor McRea's message quoted an urgent demand for troops received by him in a telegram this morning from Circuit Judge J. M. Shinn, of Harrison.

(Associated Press.)

FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 16.—Thirty officials of the shopmen's unions from all parts of the Southwest are in conference here today. Only roads on which agreements have not been made are concerned in the deliberations.

None of the local officials of strikers were permitted to sit in the morning session.

The Moore company takes over the distribution of Ford and Lincoln cars and Ford accessories in Albany-Decatur, Athens and Moulton. The Athens plant will be operated under the firm name of the Athens Motor and Tractor company, with W. C. Boykin as manager. The Moulton plant will be known as the Moulton Motor company.

Police Are After Traffic Violators

Arrests and prosecutions of violators of the traffic laws are becoming a regular order of the day in both Albany and Decatur, and they will continue according to officials unless due care is taken in the future by the drivers of high power vehicles.

Fourteen arrests are due to be made by the Albany police on warrants issued and on Monday morning 11 additional cases were tried before Mayor Britain. Chief of Police Bell stated that there were too many accidents and too much reckless driving for he and his force to fail to act. He added that he desired the cooperation of parents whose children were in the habit of skating in the side walks along Second Avenue to prevent the practice.

Demands Action On Muscle Shoals

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Congress soon will be hearing from 8,000,000 American farmers unless it gives consideration to Henry Ford's offer for leasing Muscle Shoals, Representative Sandlin, Democrat, La., said in the house today.

He declared the bill had been held up too long and that there was a growing demand for action one way or the other.

BRANDON SENDS FIRST MESSAGE

Would Eliminate Most Of Present Exemption
From Taxation

NEW LEVIES TO MAKE UP DEFICIT

Governor Declares It's Necessary To Cut
The Tax Burden

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 16.—Governor Brandon called upon the Legislature today to remove all tax exemptions from property in Alabama except those on cemeteries, schools and public buildings, churches and eleemosynary institutions and certain necessary household goods, poultry and possibly cow and calf.

He further called for the imposition of a tax on solvent credits, including stocks and bonds. He requested the imposition of an annual tax on mortgages which are in effect longer than one year. He called for a compulsory per capita tax for the support of the elementary schools. He requested a tax on gasoline for the maintenance of the public roads.

Governor Brandon said it is necessary that excessive tax burdens be removed from the people and suggested the additional items of taxation to care for the decrease in tax burdens on the people.

He recommended the abolition of the county tax assessors, that the tax assessors be required to perform the duties of the tax assessors and that the tax assessors and collectors be prohibited from succeeding themselves. He said he believed the tax commission should be retained with the addition of one member who would be charged with the duty of looking after automobile taxation. He also requested that authority be given the governor and tax commission to employ experts for the purpose of checking up the assessors and seeing that equalization of taxes is obtained.

In order not to do injustice to the tax collectors and assessors, Governor Brandon recommended that the terms of those now in office be extended two years and that after that time they be prohibited from succeeding themselves.

He proposed that license inspectors be named and paid salaries and that the fees and penalties now going to the license inspectors be covered into the state treasury.

WOULD REDUCE UNIT.

Governor Brandon told the Legislature today that the membership of the state highway commission should be reduced to three members, that the chairman should be required to remain on the job at all times, that the overhead expense be limited, that all money possible placed on the roads and that a gasoline tax be levied for the maintenance of the roads after they are constructed.

The new governor and the retiring governor were in accord on the matter of the highway department. Both recommended the reduction of the membership of the commission and both suggested that a gasoline tax be levied and applied to the maintenance of the roads.

In his suggestion for the reduction of the commission, Governor Brandon said he did not object to the personnel of the present commission which had been faithful in the performance of duties but he did object to the system because it is too heavy and much confusion has resulted because each member of the commission has represented his own section while a smaller commission would be responsible to the entire state.

COMMISSION PROPOSED.

Governor Brandon proposed to the Legislature today the creation of a state industrial commission which would have control of the enforcement of the workmen's compensation law. He also urged members of the Legislature to give consideration to the Ohio compensation law which, he said, seemed to meet the needs and

Mystery in Death of Former Officer

Captain James W. Pettit

When former Captain James W. Pettit, wealthy owner of the Massapequa Inn, at Freeport, L. I., was found shot to death in his room beautiful Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Wells, called "Billy" by her friends, his common-law wife, was arrested, charged with the slaying. She asserted she committed suicide. Investigation, however, showed that Pettit, a giant and formerly in the "Dandy Seventh" Regiment of New York, was a member of the Ku Klux Klan, and a new probe was ordered, Mrs. Wells being held in the meantime.

WITHDRAWS NAMES OF THREE TRUSTEES

(Associated Press.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 17.—Governor Brandon sent to the senate a special message, asking that the names of three men submitted to the senate on January 9 to be confirmed as trustees at A. P. I. at Auburn be withdrawn and returned to him.

The names submitted by former Governor Kilby were those of J. A. Rogers, of Gainsville; C. M. Sherrod, of Talladega and W. F. Feagin of Montgomery.

On motion of Senator Foster, the senate immediately took action and returned the names to the Governor.

David R. Lindsay Twin City Booster

David R. Lindsay, who is well known to most of the older residents of the Twin Cities is one of the most enthusiastic boosters of this community to visit here for some time. He began to build houses here many years ago, and stated this morning that he built the seventh house erected in Albany—the home until some years ago occupied by Dr. F. L. Chennault in West Albany.

Mr. Lindsay now resides in Biloxi, Miss., but frequently visits the Twin Cities on his business trips. Mr. Lindsay said: "I cover four states in my work, and I have never seen cities that to me appear to have as bright a future as the Twin Cities. I have some money to invest and I had rather spend it here than in any community I know of. It is my intention to make some investments before I leave for my home in Biloxi."

Freight Wreck On Southern Railway

The wreck of a freight train on the Southern Railroad just beyond Belle Mina occurred last night about 8 o'clock. The train left the track for some unknown reason, and ran for almost a mile before it was stopped, according to W. J. Reed. Mr. Reed stated that he was a passenger on the east bound Southern train due at Decatur about 8 o'clock, and that he was held up by the wreck until after two o'clock this morning. He stated that the track all along the way traversed by derailed freight was completely destroyed, and that with a large force at work, still the way for trains could not be cleared until after about six hours.

There was no damage to life or limb, but the material damage was great.

Soft Methods Fail, So
"We'll Try Stern

(Associated Press.)

DORTMUND, Jan. 16.—French general headquarters has information that 25,000 men of the German Reichswehr are concentrated south of Meunster, less than 25 miles north of Luenen to the north of Dortmund.

The French have advanced to both Dortmund and Luenen and the outposts of the French and German forces at some points are only eight to ten miles apart.

DUSSELDORF, Jan. 16.—The French now control every outlet from the Ruhr into Germany, whether by rail or water. The lines were extended today through Dortmund ten kilometers northeast of Luenen on the Lippe and thence to Witten, which is seven kilometers south of Dortmund.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The French threat to arrest the German coal directors in the Ruhr valley has caused a panic in Berlin, says a Central News dispatch from the German capital this afternoon. On the Berlin exchange this morning, the dollar rate was around 18,000 marks.

DORTMUND, Jan. 16.—French cavalry appeared on the outskirts of this city at noon today. It is expected that the occupation of the city will be completed by four o'clock this afternoon.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—The reparations commission in a session lasting less than half an hour, today rushed through a decision declaring Germany in wilful default in certain deliveries in coal for the year 1923. The reparations bloc, France, Belgium and Italy voted in favor of declaring the default and Kimball Cook, the British delegate, acting in place of Sir John Bradbury, who was indisposed abstained from voting.

The hurried decision followed Germany's refusal to make any more deliveries in kind, including coal, wood, cattle, dyes and building materials, so long as the French remained in the Ruhr.

President Barthou said Germany's refusal was "an open defiance of the allies which must be met with instant action. The American representatives, Roland W. Boyden and Colonel James A. Logan, were present, but had nothing to say.

ESSEN, Jan. 16.—Whatever the outcome of the conference set for today at Dusseldorf between the German industrial magnates and the industrial commission the Ruhr valley appeared this morning to be in line for an uncompromising military occupation.

"We've tried soft methods and the Germans have refused to cooperate," the correspondent was told at the French military headquarters.

"If they don't come to terms now they will get a taste of what they gave Belgium and Northern France."

MOSCOW, Jan. 16.—A demonstration against war and the French occupation of the Ruhr was staged by the workmen of many factories here yesterday.

"Down with the French imperialists. Long live the German revolution" many of the banners carried in the procession, read.

JUSTICE CLARKE STARTS THINGS FOR THE LEAGUE COVENANT.

The action of over seven hundred prominent Americans assembled in New York recently in endorsing the pro-league of nations activities of former Supreme court Justice Clarke was a significant one. And the sending of the Secretary of the League a strong pro-league cablegram was also significant. It is notable too that announcement of the sending of the wire message was made by former Attorney General Wickersham.

The New York meeting upheld Justice Clark in his contention that "as a lawyer of experience" he sees only four important or leading considerations in the league covenant.

Justice Clarke includes the famous Article 10, of the covenant as one of its most valuable provisions. Briefly, this article provides that nations attempting to fight shall be prevented therefrom by forcible action of the part of the nation members of the league, provided no nation in the league shall object to the uses of force in parting belligerents. If this country were in the league and her representatives disapproved the use of force to prevent a war, they could do so. And even if our representatives should declare for forcible intervention, Congress would still be able to defeat such a move, as Congress alone has the power to declare war under the federal constitution. But nothing in any of the league agreements interferes with the constitution of the U. S. A second provision of the league covenant is that if member nations of the league do go to war they shall be isolated, just as we now isolate a bad disease. The third important consideration is limitation of armaments. The fourth, provides that matters shall be talked over for a year, by member nations of the league, before an armed conflict is made the means of settling disputes. Who but a national or international politician can find any valid objection to the four principles just mentioned?

Chief Justice Taft, himself used to say that all disputes could and should be settled by arbitration; who will come forward and argue against the claims of Justice Clarke?

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN.

"I am the most beautiful woman who ever has been, is, or ever will be on the screen."

Thus one of the noted movie actresses modestly proclaims her pulchritude.

Very good, my dear. At least, it's quite to the point. We are not left in doubt as to your opinion of yourself.

But there are thousands of people who will not agree with this young woman, rarely wonderful though her beauty may be.

Beauty is like Einstein's theory of relativity—it means something different to nearly every one who studies it.

One may adore the dark and stormy beauty of Pola Negri, while another prefers the pale blonde glory of Lady Diana Manners.

True beauty, of course, according to the best charm of speech, manner and thought.

A soldier from the front one time said that the most beautiful woman he had ever seen was obliged to wear a veil over her face to cover the scars.

she had received by exposing herself to the barrage of the enemy.

She had brought him a glass of water—when he had not believed there was a woman within miles of him.

There were gentlemen of the early sixties who kissed the skirt of a famous San Gabriel beauty.

It would be interesting to see a portrait of her. In reality, she was probably not so lovely to gaze upon as many of our girls who keep us up to the minute in the style of frocks.

Yet she must have possessed something deeper than mere physical beauty.

She must have held her beauty as a gift from God.

Men reverence the things that women teach them to revere.

This woman must have held her beauty high—a priceless possession—fit to be worshipped.

Hence they worshipped.

If the 1922 brand of flapper should encounter a young gentleman, who suddenly found himself impelled to kiss the hem of her skirt she would probably be so surprised that she would automatically park her gum on the other side of her face.

Beauty is a great thing if it isn't held too cheaply.—Jackson News.

IT IS NEVER TOO LATE TO DO GOOD.

No one who ever had a bad debt to collect doubts the right of the French to occupy German territory in an honest effort to collect honest debts. But as long as any doubt exists as to the ability of the Germans to pay, France should go extremely careful. Because the fowl in the fable is unable to lay golden eggs fast enough is no reason for destroying her. Until it is plain that the effort being made by the French is a constructive one, there will be grave suspense throughout the civilized world as to the outcome of the French military venture. When we hear a person say in private life "if he don't pay me I will beat it out of him," we generally feel that the man demanding payment with such words on his lips has become desperate. And desperate means are seldom successful means whether in individual or national life. As nearly as any one can find out just what the government at Washington thinks—the impression prevails that Mr. Hughes our Secretary of State has suggested that the matter of the payment of the German war debt be put off until a company of business experts who are impartial can have a chance to take an inventory, so to speak of the German stock in trade. Because the men now acting as Premiers of a few great countries cannot know with any degree of accuracy what Germany can pay it is folly to leave them to settle the indemnity dispute. The production of a country is almost next to impossible to ascertain. It would take the best trained minds in finance and economics to settle such a big question, and it would take maybe years to arrive at a conclusion. A company of experts should have been selected by the Allies immediately upon the defeat of the Germans in 1918; but when the knowledge of the German atrocities was fresh upon the minds of the whole world was no time for sober sound reasoning on the part of anybody. But it is better late than never, always. And even with French soldiers occupying German soil, it is not too late to go at the German war indemnity in a business like manner.

In case the French method of coercion fails; even then it will not be too late to have an impartial commission to settle the whole matter, on the general ground "it is never too late to do good." If the French method succeeds, which is doubtful, well and good, but the last resort always will be a court of facts and reason.

There is never a sky so heavy overhung with threatening clouds, but that back of it all the sun was still shining, and behind the dark mass which flings itself so threateningly across a peaceful firmament, the silver lining to the clouds out of sight is as bright as ever. It works by way of contrast, and hope wends its way out to the brightness which lies beyond.

Foolish question No. 1000, would a holiday against the 18th amendment be an holy celebration.

S. A. CAMPAIGN BEGINS TODAY

Workers Are Busy All Over the Twin Cities During Tuesday

LEADERS URGING HELP OF PUBLIC

Nearly Two Hundred In Past Year Converted, Records Reveal

The Salvation army budget campaign opened this morning with workers busy in Decatur, Albany and at the Louisville and Nashville shops. Dr. John D. Wallace, is general chairman for Decatur, succeeding J. W. Clifton who is out of the cities. Dr. Wallace has direct charge of the woman's division in Decatur is in charge of Mrs. J. N. Gibson.

In Albany W. W. Rahm is chairman for the men's division and Mrs. L. P. Troup is chairman of the woman's division. The two captains at the Louisville and Nashville shops are Hiram S. Roberts and Thomas Hodson. C. W. Matthews, Master Mechanic at the shops, is a member of the advisory committee and is expected to take an active part in the present campaign.

The Louisville and Nashville shop foremen and others interested in The Salvation Army held a meeting to further discuss ways and means to raise funds sufficient to meet present requirements asked for in the 1923 budget.

C. J. Randolph, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. was made chairman last night. Mr. Randolph said: "We now have come to the test and that where the test is met, there will be found no embarrassment." He said, "that the world has regarded with tolerant interest and has been duly appreciative for the distinguished work the Salvation Army has been doing throughout the world and the same qualities which recommend its work to other communities recommends it with equal force to this community."

E. F. Baird, Big Chief of the Kiwanis Club, made an unusually interesting address contending that saving one life would convert a liability into an asset fully worth the amount specified in the budget and stressed the point that the Salvation Army could dispense monies to better advantage than any other welfare organization in this community.

Jesse Wood, special Activities Officer, said the local camp converted 174 people last year, 170 of which joined and attended local churches. He intimated that all local workers must remain in the road of good intentions if this campaign is to be crowned with success.

H. S. Roberts and Thos. Hudson were elected captains for the various committees at the shops.

Open discussion followed the speaking in which much interest and enthusiasm was manifested.

Mr. Rahm stated this morning among others he had secured the cooperation of Rev. T. G. Mundy, to assist in the work of the men's division in Albany.

Brandon Sends First Message

the approval of all classes affected by compensation statutes.

Many changes are needed in the present law, Governor Brandon said, so many he did not feel that they could be included in his first message in order that the proper compensation law may be enacted for the needs of this state, he proposed the careful study of the Ohio statutes.

SEAPORT NEEDS STUDIED.

Declaring that port legislation will be among the most important subjects to be handled during the present session, Governor Brandon in his first message to the legislature today urged it to make a close study of the needs of the state's seaport at Mobile with the view of expending the state's funds wisely and judiciously.

"In my judgment a great day will dawn for Alabama when this port is completed," said Governor Brandon. "Every section will be benefited and the product of field and mine, of mill and factory, will cause our industrial life to throb with new energy."

He requested the legislature to create a joint committee which will confer with the harbor commission and will make recommendations for the proper legislation necessary to make effective the will of the people as expressed at the ballot box.

HEAD TAX SOUGHT.

Imposition of a head tax of two dollars on every person in Alabama between twenty-one and fifty, male or female, white or black, for the support of the elementary schools of Alabama and the submission of a constitutional amendment providing for a millage tax for the support of the institutions of a higher learning were proposed by Governor W. W. Brandon in his first message to the Legislature which he delivered today.

Governor Brandon said first money of the people should be expended for education and that first consideration in education should be given to the elementary schools. He declared that he believed all citizens would be willing to pay the per capita or head tax in order that the state's educational system might be developed.

Regarding the millage tax for higher institutions, Governor Brandon said it is necessary that some permanent arrangement be made whereby funds can be obtained in sufficient quantity for the support of the institutions without officers being forced to come to the Legislature at each session and to plead for additional appropriations.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLD AND THE FLU

First step in Treatment is a Brisk Purgative with Calomel, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds, coughs, sore throat, and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablets called Calomel, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old-style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and colds and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One or two Calomel tablets on the tongue at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified and your are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Genuine Calomel are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, vest-pocket size.

Extracts From an Address.

—Delivered at a district convention by Mrs. Louis A. Neill:

Recently I received a letter from a friend of mine, now living in a distant state, a daughter of one of the pioneer club women of Alabama. Enclosed with the letter was a Birmingham newspaper clipping, yellow with age, bearing the date April 18, 1895, and containing a glowing account of the organization of the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs in Birmingham more than 27 years ago. One of the objects of this organization was "That through federation, the various clubs of the state might grow to be a power for good." The first speaker at this first convention uttered this prophecy: "Whatever we shall accomplish shall be done with the same true and gentle refinement that has always characterized the women of Alabama. In taking this step forward, we shall enlarge our influence along helpful lines and bring into closer relation the women of the state and nation." How this prophecy is being fulfilled in Alabama today is so well known to you that it is unnecessary for me to relate.

Regarding its fulfillment throughout the nation may I say that very recently I have heard many beautiful tributes to and expression of appreciation of the General Federation and its work. An official at Washington, high in authority, said: "Club women of America have the vision. The Federation of Women's Clubs is one of the most important agencies for good in this country." Another said: "Club women have found the glory of being useful. We know that we may call upon them for great things." President Harding, in his message to the General Federation at the biennial convention said: "A new relationship of women to our public, together with a keen realization of the increasing part which they are playing in the economic and social community serves to emphasize the significance of the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. For many years the federation has ranked as the most representative organization of women in these fields and its wisely directed activities have been a constantly increasing force in the nation. Those activities have invariably been directed along lines calculated to improve the moral intellectual and material condition of the nation." He said that he could hardly conceive of a better wish for the federation's future than that it may be marked by a continuation of the high purposes and effective leadership which for many years it has provided for the activities of the women of America.

Would that it had been possible for every club woman in Alabama to have attended the sixteenth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which was held from June 20 to June 30 in New York on the shores of beautiful Lake Chautauqua! Had all of our club women been privileged to attend what inspiration, what power of constructive action would have been ours!

Mrs. Percy Pennybacker, said that, upon arriving at Chautauqua, one of her first impressions was "How blessed a thing it is to have the biennial sessions held in so beautiful a place as Chautauqua, with its Greek pillared halls without walls, the birds flitting in and out, the south breeze murmuring through the streets, the glint of the lake showing now and then—all breathing peace and calm as if some voice said: "Be still and know that I am God."

Among the several thousand delegates and visitors representing over two million club women were seven Alabama delegates. There for ten wonderful days we recharged our batteries of information and enthusiasm. Although we had an unusually strong program, with world figures and recognized specialists taking part at each session and with America's leading musicians presenting the best in American music daily, our thoughts would revert to a former biennial convention held in Des Moines two years ago, when Alabama's own, Mrs. Haley had given us that beautiful and wonderful program. Many were the expressions of the love and esteem in which Mrs. Haley is held by her friends in the General Federation.

One of the most important matters brought before the executive board of the Alabama Federation at its meeting last month was the proposed plan which later was adopted, of co-operation between the State Home Demonstration Department and the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs. The cooperation of these two organizations will be a definite step toward bringing the urban and the rural woman into a closer relation and a better understanding. The work of home demonstration is of utmost importance to our home and national life. Our state home demonstration agent believes that we should be interested in art for home's sake. Mrs. Walter S. Little says that "The artistic home of today, is not necessarily a costly one, that the house beautiful is the result of orderly, rhythmic, and harmonious arrangement of furnishings which are, in themselves in both structure and decoration simple and suitable." Those who feel that they do not know anything of art forget that they have daily dealings with art, small questions involving line, form and color questions involving the grouping of shrubbery, vines and flowers, and that they have an unavoidable share in their homes in the high duty of making this Alabama the Beautiful.

The Alabama Children's Aid Society, an organization with you are familiar and one with which the Alabama Federation has cooperated since its organization, five years ago, will continue to receive dependent and neglected children of the state and place them in homes where they will be adopted as members of families. Mrs. L. B. Bush, director of the State Child Welfare Department, says: "It is a feeling of all engaged in child welfare work in Alabama that a large part of the credit for the measures that we have on our statute books for the protection of children belongs to the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs. She asks for the continuation of the generous and intelligent co-operation, which has heretofore been extended to the Children's Aid Society by the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs.

One of the vital problems of the Alabama Federation today is how to interest the young women. Under the able leadership of our vice-president, Mrs. John Tilley, of Montgomery, a systematic effort will be made to bring the younger women into the Federation. The needs of youth is keenly felt, and it is hoped that you will lend your whole hearted support to this work.

I can not close without a word of appreciation of our retiring president, Mrs. Brevard Jones. Her administration was one of great achievement. The ten thousand dollar endowment fund was completed. Mrs. Hagan's plans for a twenty thousand dollar maintenance fund were launched. The Alabama Federation contributed generously to our new national headquarters in Washington. The county organization plan was perfected. A large number of county libraries were established. New scholarships were acquired. The Federation bulletin was founded. Mrs. Jones has contributed much to the success of the Federation. We owe her a debt of gratitude that we can never repay.

May the Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs long continue its altruistic and patriotic service. May we continue to strive to serve our great state and its glorious ideals. It has been said that the gospel of the eighteenth century was liberty, the motto of the nineteenth century was equality, and that of the twentieth century is service. "She who lives for self lives a life lower than the flowers that fade and die, as autumn leaves, but she who lives for others lives forever."

HOW UNCLE SAM COMBATS MENACE OF FOREST FIRES.

The United States Government is spending large sums combating the menace of forest fires, which used to cost the country millions of dollars annually. The latest type of fire lookout observatories dot the highest peaks of the forests, this particular one being on Castle Peak, Colorado, where observers, with powerful glasses, can scan thousands of square miles of forest. Miss Helen Dove, fire lookout at Devil's Head, Colorado, is shown using the Osborne fire fighters. From a dial beneath the instrument she reads the angle at which she is from the fire. Another observer takes a similar angle, and where these two angles cross on the map the fire is located, enabling rangers to go immediately to it. Where lookout towers are not practicable rangers patrol immense districts on horseback.

Get health—Keep health—Feel fine
by eating Kellogg's Bran regularly!

Constipation and the toxic poisonings that come from it not only take the enthusiasm out of life, making you depressed and physically and mentally dull—but they lead you into diseases such as Bright's, diabetes, rheumatism, etc. You can actually rid yourself of these dangers if you will EAT KELLOGG'S BRAN REGULARLY—at least two tablespoonsful daily; in chronic cases with every meal!

What you should do for your family and for yourself is to serve Kellogg's Bran every day, in any one of several attractive ways, and fight constipation as you have never fought it before! AND YOU WILL WIN!

In the first place, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its natural flavor, adding greatly to any cereal with which it is used. But bran as a cereal with hot milk, or mix it with hot cereal before serving. Another method is to cook Kellogg's Bran with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonsful of bran for each person. A popular way is to sprinkle bran on hot or cold cereal. Bran makes wonderful bakery products. Recipes are printed on every package.

Kellogg's Bran is served in leading hotels, restaurants and clubs. It is sold by all grocers.
